This painting workshop will focus on portraiture. Discussions will cover how to set up a painting, develop the light and dark shapes, create clean mid tones as well as color theory, just to name a few. The workshop will begin with a demo to illustrate these points with open discussion throughout. There will be student painting time both Saturday and Sunday, giving ample time to develop a painting through many of these stages. Tom's demo will be created in oils, but students are welcome to work in acrylics.
